Welcome CJ Kruska

Principal, St. Joseph the Worker School

With the opening of our academic year this week, we welcome Mr. CJ Kruska, principal of St. Joseph the Worker School. Although new to this leadership position, CJ is not new to our community. His career in Catholic education began right here when he joined our school faculty in 2000. He taught all levels, from kindergarten through eighth grade, until 2006 when he moved on to Bishop Alemany High School (Mission Hills). There he taught in the religion, mathematics, and social studies departments. He also served as principal of St. Catherine of Siena School (Reseda).

A committed Catholic educator, CJ is devoted to helping young people develop a love of our Catholic faith and of life-long learning and is passionate about challenging students academically and spiritually.

For more about Mr. Kruska, see page 5.

PARISH LIFE

HUMILITY

Have you ever been in a group of people—maybe on a tour, at a social gathering, or at church—and discovered that you have just been talking with a well-known author, corporate CEO, great scholar, or politician? Your first thought is the hope that you didn't say anything to embarrass yourself; but your second thought is how much they seemed like such "regular" folks. What is it that makes people seem so "regular"? Today's readings give us a clue when they stress the importance of humility.

It is so hard for us not to tell the first person who will listen how busy we are, how hard we work, how much money we donate, and how important our job titles are. We think these accolades make a difference to people, and if we don't tell them, how will they ever know? But if our actions demonstrate our values, people will recognize our worth on their own. The words of Jesus show us how much better it is to let someone else recognize our worth than to be embarrassed because someone did not.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Perhaps the most familiar traditional symbol that identifies bishops is the crosier that they carry. We see the shepherd's staff and immediately rich images from scripture come to mind, as well as the recollection that the first to respond to Christ's presence in our world were the shepherds. The staff is more than a walking stick; its crooked top is useful in snaring errant sheep but also in keeping the flock united. Bishops carry the curve outward, indicating their ministry to the wider flock, while abbots (and some abbesses, too) carry the crosier with the curve pointing in, indicating that their ministry is to the monastery alone.

The crosier was once also carried by the pope, but was phased out centuries ago. You may recall that in pre-"popemobile" days, the pope was often carried around on a portable throne called a sedes gestatoria. Since he didn't do much walking, the need for a crosier was minimal. Pope Paul VI introduced the innovation of a walking staff in the 1960s, and everyone remembers Pope John Paul II's walking staff, not a crook, but a delicately sculptured crucifix. Thus, the pope carries a "pastoral staff" rather than a crosier. Precisely because the pope's ministry is universal, to the whole world, popes will likely leave crosiers in the hands of the bishops they commission for care of specific flocks.

SAFEGUARD THE CHILDREN

Teaching children about boundaries and safe touches is healthy

Teaching children about boundaries and safe touches is not sex education. There are many safety issues we teach children: bike safety, water safety, fire prevention, driver's training, etc. Personal safety programs should have age appropriate lessons that give children the skills they need to protect themselves without frightening them. Keeping children unaware of the dangers around them does not keep them safe. Predators count on children not knowing what to do. A PASSION FOR CATHOLIC EDUCATION

CJ Kruska, Principal, St. Joseph the Worker School

On the north wall of CJ Kruska's office in the school building is a large, framed whiteboard. Across the top are the words Faith, Excellence, Stewardship. "These are our themes," he explains. "Faith, of course, is very important to us. It's the reason we are here. We strive for excellence in academics. Stewardship is our legacy, taking care of who we are today and preparing for who we'll be tomorrow."

Mr. Kruska was named principal of St. Joseph the Worker School, effective July 1, upon the retirement of Sr. Barbara Joseph Wilson CSJ. He earned a bachelor's degree in psychology from Sonoma State University and a master's degree in education from Loyola Marymount University and holds a California secondary teaching credential.

CJ is passionate about the value of Catholic education. "In everything we do, we talk about how Jesus loves us and that we love Jesus. If you don't have a relationship with Jesus, it's very easy to walk away. As a community, our school is fully immersed in Jesus' love. You don't get that in public schools. . . . Students are changed because of the experience they receive every day at every moment on campus."

Based on this underlying foundation, the curriculum aims to challenge students both academically and spiritually. "Dr. Kevin Baxter, Superintendent of Catholic Schools, talks about a pebble in a shoe. It's uncomfortable. We want to make sure our students are a little uncomfortable. We want the pebble in the shoe. We want them to continue their journey, but be conscious of every step they take." Several new projects have been initiated over the summer. In cooperation with a local Eagle Scout, the kindergarten play area will be completely refurbished before school starts; the school and parish administration collaborated to install new LED lighting throughout the property, through a grant program from LADWP; and work is under way on grant proposals to upgrade the computer lab and provide computers for teachers.

Current enrollment is 280 students, a number that CJ hopes will increase with a strong marketing and outreach program. "We want families to know that our school may be an option for them. We encourage parents to come and have a conversation with us. . . . Yes, a Catholic education costs money, but so does a brand new car. A brand new car will last ten years. Your son or daughter will be your son or daughter forever."

PROTEGIENDO A LOS NIÑOS

Es saludable enseñar a los niños sobre la seguridad personal y los límites del contacto físico con otros

Enseñar a los niños sobre los límites y cuando un contacto físico con otros es seguro no es educación sexual. Hay muchos temas de seguridad que enseñamos a los niños: seguridad en las bicicletas, seguridad en el agua, prevención de incendios, entrenamiento para conducir, etc. Los programas de seguridad personal deben contar con lecciones apropiadas para la edad, que les brinde a los niños la información que ellos necesitan para protegerse sin asustarlos. Mantener a los niños sin el conocimiento de los peligros a su alrededor no los mantiene seguros. Los predadores cuentan con que los niños no saben lo que hacen. Para más información, por favor visite: <http://www.usccb.org/issues-and-action/child-and-youth-protection/faqs.cfm>.

PARISH REGISTRATION

To promote a spirit of belonging, we encourage all who worship here to become registered parishioners. Having registered makes the process much easier when it is time for infant baptism, school or religious education enrollment, weddings, when asked to be a baptismal or confirmation sponsor, and funerals. Simply attending Mass here does not make you a registered parishioner. Please call or visit the Parish Center to request a registration form or complete the form online at the parish website: www.sjwchurch.com. Also, please contact the Parish Center if you have a new address or phone number. The staff is able to serve you better if the parish records are accurate.

REQUESTING USE OF PARISH FACILITIES

Parish and School groups that would like to reserve any facility in the parish must contact Angela Escobar in the Parish Center (818) 341-6634, ext. 1003. Only rooms reserved in advance are open. If your group needs to cancel a reservation, please let Angela know so that the room can be made available to another group. Also, if your group needs a particular room arrangement, please bring a copy of the requested floor plan to the Parish Center a week ahead.
